Executive Summary

ES.1 Project Overview and Study Purpose

Metrolinx, an agency of the Province of Ontario, is proceeding with the planning and development of the Ontario Line, extending from Exhibition/Ontario Place to the Ontario Science Centre in the City of Toronto. AECOM Canada Limited (AECOM) was retained by Metrolinx and Infrastructure Ontario to complete an Environmental Conditions Report for the proposed Ontario Line Project (the Project).

The Project is a new approximately 16-kilometre subway line with connections to Line 1 (Yonge-University) subway service at Osgoode and Queen Stations, Line 2 (Bloor-Danforth) subway service at Pape Station, and Line 5 (Eglinton Crosstown) light rail transit service at the future Science Centre Station. Fifteen stations are proposed, with additional connections to three GO Transit lines (Lakeshore East, Lakeshore West and Stouffville), and the Queen, King, Bathurst, Spadina, Harbourfront, and Gerrard/Carlton streetcar routes. The Project will reduce crowding on Line 1 and provide connections to new high-order rapid transit neighbourhoods. The Project will be constructed in a dedicated right-of-way with a combination of elevated (i.e., above existing rail corridor/roadway), tunnelled (i.e., underground), and at-grade (i.e., at grade with existing rail corridor) segments at various locations.

For the purpose of this Noise and Vibration Environmental Conditions Report, the Ontario Line Study Area has been divided into three segments:

- Ontario Line West (from Exhibition/Ontario Place to Osgoode Station);
- Ontario Line South (from Osgoode Station to Pape Station); and
- Ontario Line North (from Pape Station to the Ontario Science Centre).

This Report supports the Environmental Conditions Report prepared for the Project in accordance with Section 4 of Ontario Regulation 341/20: Ontario Line Project. The purpose of this Report is to:

- Document the existing noise and vibration levels within the Study Area and provide baseline conditions for potential use in subsequent Ontario Line Project noise and vibration impact assessments;
- Provide a preliminary description of the potential impacts that the Project might have on the environment that have been identified to date;
- Describe potential measures for mitigating negative impacts; and

- Identify anticipated next steps for Project advancement, including recommendations for further investigations to be completed as part of a future Environmental Impact Assessment Report.

The monitoring locations in this Report are not intended to be a comprehensive list of all noise and vibration sensitive receptors that will require a future impact assessment relating to the Ontario Line Project. This Report intends to provide a reference for existing noise levels in the Ontario Line Study Area, and to provide baseline vibration levels at vibration sensitive locations that do not have prescribed limits under Ontario guidelines (i.e., recording studios, hospitals, theatres).

Refer to Section 1 of this Report for more information related to the Project purpose and detailed study area description.

ES.2 Methodology

Noise measurements were collected at 16 locations representative of noise sensitive receptors within the Ontario Line Study Area. These locations were selected based on proximity to at-grade and elevated sections of the representative alignment and potential facility locations as presented in the Ontario Line Initial Business Case (Metrolinx and Infrastructure Ontario, 2019).

Vibration measurements were collected at seven locations representative of vibration sensitive receptors within the Ontario Line Study Area. These locations – four theatres, a recording studio, and a hospital – were selected because they accommodate spaces and equipment that are potentially more sensitive to ground-borne noise and vibration than typical residential buildings.

ES.3 Existing Noise and Vibration Conditions

Noise measurements indicate that average existing daytime, evening, and night-time noise levels in the vicinity of the representative alignment range as follows:

- Daytime (7 AM to 7 PM) $L_{eq, 1hr}$: 48 dBA to 73 dBA;
- Evening (7 PM to 11 PM) $L_{eq, 1hr}$: 48 dBA to 71 dBA;
- Night-time (11 PM to 7 AM) $L_{eq, 1hr}$: 43 dBA to 70 dBA;
- Daytime (7 AM to 11 PM) $L_{eq, 16hr}$: 53 dBA to 67 dBA; and
- Night-time (11 PM to 7 AM) $L_{eq, 8hr}$: 49 dBA to 62 dBA.

Typically noise levels were higher in locations with a close proximity to arterial roadways and during hours with higher expected traffic volumes, while noise levels were lower in areas further from arterial roads and during hours with lower traffic volumes.

Measured ambient sound levels in certain areas were lower than others, typically in areas with more residential housing located away from larger arterial roadways and industrial or commercial facilities. This was most noticeable during the night-time period. Examples of residential areas with lower noise levels include Leaside Park Drive, Hopedale Avenue/Minton Place, Gowan Avenue, and Gertrude Place.

Vibration measurements indicate the maximum root-mean-square vibration velocity at vibration sensitive spaces in the vicinity of the representative alignment range as follows:

- Theatres: 0.0067 millimetres/second to 0.0644 millimetres/second;
- Recording Studio: 0.0826 millimetres/second (outdoor); and
- Hospital: 0.016 millimetres/second (Magnetic Resonance Imaging Room).

The ambient vibration velocities measured inside the four theatres (Canadian Stage Theatre, Alumnae Theatre Company, Elgin Winter Garden Theatre, and Four Seasons Centre for Performing Arts) are below the US Department of Transportation Federal Transit Administration (FTA) vibration criteria for these spaces.

The measured maximum vibration velocity was higher than the FTA vibration velocity criteria for Super Sonics Post Processing (recording studio). However, since vibration velocity at this location was measured outdoors approximately six metres from the building façade, the vibration velocity inside the building might be lower than the measured velocity when considering the coupling loss between the ground and building foundation.

The maximum vibration velocity measured in the St. Michael's Hospital MRI room is slightly higher than the recommended FTA vibration velocity of MRI equipment. The maximum vibration may have been captured during the period of preparation with human activities such as footfalls taking place before MRI machine operation.

ES.4 Preliminary Potential Impacts, Mitigation Measures and Monitoring Activities

Potential operational mitigation includes reducing the noise at the source, optimal maintenance and inspections of railway tracks and subway trains, and noise and vibration transmission attenuation (e.g., noise walls, resiliently supported rail ties, high resilient fasteners, ballast mats, or floating slabs).

Potential construction noise and vibration mitigation measures include restricting work hours to day-time when possible, keeping equipment in good working order and with effective muffling devices, and utilizing equipment with low noise and vibration emissions when possible. Noise and vibration monitoring can help inform further mitigation requirements during construction. Further mitigation measures could include but are not limited to temporary noise barriers, additional silencers and mufflers, equipment enclosures and off-site construction of Project parts.

ES.5 Future Studies

As Project planning and design advance and further details on the alignment and planned transit facilities are available, noise and vibration impact assessment studies shall be undertaken to determine potential mitigation. The measured ambient data in this Report can be used for baseline conditions in future noise and vibration studies applicable to the Ontario Line Project. Further details regarding potential use of data in future assessments and applicable guidelines are provided in Section 6.

ES.6 Permits and Approvals

It is anticipated that Project facilities, such as maintenance and storage facility and traction power substations, will either be registered on the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks' Environmental Activity Sector Registry or will have applications submitted for Environmental Compliance Approvals, depending on the facility activity.

1. Introduction

1.1 Project Overview

Metrolinx, an agency of the Province of Ontario, is proceeding with the planning and development of the Ontario Line, extending from Exhibition/Ontario Place to the Ontario Science Centre in the City of Toronto. AECOM Canada Limited (AECOM) was retained by Metrolinx and Infrastructure Ontario to complete an Environmental Conditions Report for the Ontario Line Project (the Project). This Noise and Vibration Environmental Conditions Report (this Report) is one of several environmental conditions reports prepared for the Project. The purpose of this Report is described in Section 1.2.

The Project is a new approximately 16-kilometre subway line with connections to Line 1 (Yonge-University) subway service at Osgoode and Queen Stations, Line 2 (Bloor-Danforth) subway service at Pape Station, and Line 5 (Eglinton Crosstown) light rail transit service at the future Science Centre Station. Fifteen stations are proposed, with additional connections to three GO Transit lines (Lakeshore East, Lakeshore West and Stouffville), and the Queen, King, Bathurst, Spadina, Harbourfront and Gerrard/Carlton streetcar routes. The Project will reduce crowding on Line 1 and provide connections to new high-order rapid transit neighbourhoods. The Project will be constructed in a dedicated right-of-way with a combination of elevated (i.e., above existing rail corridor/roadway), tunnelled (i.e., underground), and at-grade (i.e., at grade with existing rail corridor) segments at various locations.

For the purpose of this Report, the Ontario Line Study Area has been divided into three segments:

- Ontario Line West (from Osgoode Station to Ontario Place);
- Ontario Line South (from Osgoode Station to Pape Station); and
- Ontario Line North (from Pape Station to the Ontario Science Centre).

1.2 Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this Report is to:

- Provide a preliminary description of the potential impacts that the Project might have on the environment that have been identified to date;
- Describe potential measures for mitigating negative impacts; and
- Identify anticipated next steps for Project advancement, including recommendations for further investigations to be completed as part of a future Environmental Impact Assessment Report.

A glossary of technical terms used in this Report is provided in Appendix A.

This Report has been prepared in accordance with Section 4 of Ontario Regulation 341/20: Ontario Line Project and contains the information outlined in Table 1-1.

The monitoring locations in this Report are not intended to be a comprehensive list of all noise and vibration sensitive receptors that will require a future impact assessment relating to the Ontario Line Project. This Report intends to provide a reference for existing noise levels in the Ontario Line Study Area, and to provide baseline vibration levels at vibration sensitive locations that do not have prescribed limits under Ontario guidelines (i.e., recording studios, hospitals, theatres).

1.3 Study Area

The Ontario Line Study Area was established based on the preliminary proposed route reflected in the Ontario Line Initial Business Case (Metrolinx and Infrastructure Ontario, 2019), where a buffer was applied to the preliminary proposed route delineating a sufficiently sized area to comprehensively characterize existing environmental conditions.

For readability and for the purposes of this Report, the Ontario Line Study Area has been divided into three segments, which are described in the following sections.

1.3.1 Ontario Line West

1.3.2 Ontario Line South

1.3.3 Ontario Line North

2. Baseline Noise Conditions

2.1 Metrics

Noise impacts on noise sensitive locations are typically assessed using a 1-hour, 8-hour, or 16-hour “equivalent sound level” metric, denoted as $L_{eq,T}$. This metric describes the constant sound level that would produce the same acoustic energy as the transient (time-varying) sound level, over the exposure time period “T”. The relationships between transient sound level, equivalent sound level, and exposure time are conceptually illustrated in Figure 2-1.

2.2 Methods

AECOM collected noise measurements at 16 locations representative of the noise sensitive receptors (residential dwellings) within the study area. Receptor locations were selected based on proximity to the above ground sections of the representative alignment and potential facility locations as presented in the Ontario Line Initial Business Case, 2019. Noise measurement locations are presented in Appendix B.

Data could not be recovered from the noise monitor set up on Windom Road (planned monitor MO_01N). In addition, access restrictions prevented ambient monitoring at the 17th planned location MO_04N. Methods used to estimate noise levels for these locations are described in Section 4.

The measurements were collected using 3M Quest SoundPro sound level meters fitted with microphone windscreens and set up to log noise levels in 15-minute intervals ($L_{eq,15min}$). The sound level meters were installed at a height of approximately three metres above the ground and were field calibrated prior to, and upon completion of the noise measurements.

At 13 locations, the sound level meters recorded data continuously for approximately five days, or longer during the period of November 5th to December 2nd, 2019. At two locations (MO_01W and MO5_05S), attended noise monitoring was conducted overnight for one night due to access and security restrictions.

After completion of the measurements, the noise measurement data were processed to remove samples collected during high winds (wind speeds greater than 20 kilometres/hour¹), precipitation, or periods with data not representative of the typical acoustic environment (e.g., continuous construction). The processed data were then used to estimate $L_{eq,1hr}$, $L_{eq,8hr}$, and $L_{eq,16hr}$ metrics.

Detailed information regarding the sound level meter instrumentation is provided in Appendix C.

2.3 Results

Table 2-1, Table 2-2 and Table 2-3 summarize the results of the noise measurements. The full noise measurement dataset, and prevailing weather conditions during the measurement periods are provided in Appendix D.

Note that evening period (7:00 PM to 11:00 PM) data were not measured at locations MO_01W and MO_05S due to access restraints. The daytime period measurements for the Rolling Mills Road/Mill Street location (MO_03S) were excluded as well due to significant daytime construction near the monitor. Methods used to estimate noise levels during these time periods are outlined in Section 4.

1. This is the wind speed where most available microphone wind screens are considered inadequate for reducing wind noise impacts on measurements. (Bies and Hansen, 2009). In addition, this is the upper wind speed for assessment of background noise, above which winds can generate high ambient noise in areas that are well treed with considerable foliage (CTA, 2011).

Data that could be used to represent areas without measured data are highlighted in blue within the result tables. These representative data have been selected from locations and time periods where ambient noise levels are expected to be similar to or lower than the noise levels at the locations without measured data. The representative data has been selected based on alternative locations or time periods where ambient noise levels are expected to be similar or lower.

For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered for locations beyond those included in this Report. In addition, to support the application for Environmental Compliance Approvals and completion of Environmental Activity and Sector Registrations for this Project, Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks may require that background levels used for the adjustment of noise limits be verified by calculations in accordance with Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks noise prediction standards.

3. Baseline Vibration Conditions

3.1 Metrics

Vibrations travel through solid media as waves in a similar way to how sound travels through fluid media. Ground-borne vibration is the oscillatory motion of the ground about some equilibrium position that can be described in terms of displacement, velocity, or acceleration. For a vibrating floor, the vibration displacement represents the distance the floor moves away from its static position. Velocity is the instantaneous motion of the floor in a certain time period and acceleration is the rate of change of the velocity. The response of humans, buildings, and equipment to vibration is most accurately described using velocity or acceleration; hence, these are most commonly used in evaluating vibration. For the response of humans or vibration sensitive equipment, an averaged amplitude of vibration is more appropriate since the human body and equipment require a certain period to respond to vibration. The root-mean-square amplitude is typically used to assess the vibration response of humans and equipment (CDT, 2013). The root-mean-square value is the square root of the average of the squared amplitudes of the signal that can be described as the smoothed vibration amplitude for an average time period. The averaging time period of root-mean-square is typically one second for transit projects (FTA, 2018).

3.2 Methods

AECOM collected unattended vibration measurements at seven sites including five theatres, one recording studio and one hospital in the study area, during the months of January and February of 2020. These locations were selected because they accommodate spaces and equipment that are potentially more sensitive to ground-borne noise and vibration than typical residential buildings. The measurement sites were located in the Ontario Line West and Ontario Line South segments. No vibration-sensitive receptors with special requirements beyond residential sensitivity were identified in the Ontario Line North segment. At each measurement site, one to three locations were selected for the installation of vibration measurement sensors (accelerometers). Within the measurement sites, sensors were placed as close as possible to the representative alignment. The vibration measurement sites are shown in Appendix B. The measurement locations at each site are outlined in Table 3-1 and Table 3-2, and photos and floor plans are attached in Appendix F.

At each measurement location, continuous vibration was measured using one or two accelerometers (nominal sensitivity of 10 V/g)² depending on the site condition, and the measured data were recorded with a RION DA-21 digital data recorder (24 bit) with the sampling frequency of 2,560 hertz. The detailed description of accelerometers is provided in Appendix C. Accelerometers were calibrated before the measurements were taken.

The vibration data were processed with analysis software (MATLAB version 2019b) to obtain root-mean-square velocity in the time-domain and energy averaged maximum root-mean-square velocity in 1/3-octave frequency bands. The lowest and highest frequency bands used in the analysis were 1 hertz and 500 hertz, respectively. At each location, approximately one to four hours of data were acquired in one-hour data blocks. For each one-hour data block, the one-second root-mean-square velocity with 50% overlap was calculated in the time-domain; and the 95 percentile and 98 percentile values were evaluated. In addition to the time-domain analysis, the energy averaged root-mean-square (one-second period with 50% overlap) velocity was calculated for each one-hour data block; and then the maximum velocity at each 1/3 octave-band frequency captured.

3.3 Results

The vibration measurement results are summarized in Table 3-3 and Table 3-4, and the entire measured and processed one-hour data block results are attached in Appendix E. The one-second energy averaged maximum RMS value is typically employed for transit vibration impact assessment to vibration sensitive equipment and human response. The 95-percentile value can be considered as the typical ambient vibration condition excluding local activities near the sensor such as impulses due to footfalls. For the spaces experiencing frequent intermittent or impulsive vibrations, the 98-percentile value is expected to be more representative than the 95-percentile value.

For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered for locations beyond those included in this Report.

4. Discussion

4.1 Noise

The results of the noise measurements indicate that average existing noise levels in the vicinity of the representative alignment are as follows:

- Daytime $L_{eq,1hr}$: 48 dBA to 73 dBA;
- Evening $L_{eq,1hr}$: 48 dBA to 71 dBA;
- Night-time $L_{eq,1hr}$: 43 dBA to 70 dBA;
- Daytime $L_{eq,16hr}$: 53 dBA to 67 dBA; and
- Night-time $L_{eq,8hr}$: 49 dBA to 62 dBA.

Typically noise levels were higher in locations with a close proximity to arterial roadways and during hours with higher expected traffic volumes, while noise levels were lower in areas further from arterial roads and during hours with lower traffic volumes.

Where one hour ($L_{eq,1hr}$) periods are typically used in stationary source assessments, and 16/8 hour day/night split periods ($L_{eq,16hr}$ and $L_{eq,8hr}$, respectively) are used for rail and construction assessments:

These average noise levels are consistent with levels that may be expected within a mix of Class 1 and Class 2 (urban/suburban) areas, where road traffic and industry are the dominant noise sources. A Class 1 area is defined in the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks NPC-300 Guideline as an area with an acoustical environment of a major population centre where the background is dominated by road traffic and the activities of people, referred to as “urban hum”. A Class 2 area is an area with a Class 1 environment during day-time hours, with lower night time and/or evening background noise levels defined by the natural environment and infrequent human activity.

The ambient noise at the Windom Road (MO_01N) location was assumed to be represented by measured data from the MO_06N location as it is similarly adjacent to a busy roadway and commercial/institutional activities, has access roads with expected similar traffic, and has a similar amount of noise shielding from road, mechanical equipment, or human activity noise. This is likely a conservative assumption as Eglinton Boulevard and Don Mills Road (near MO_01N) are likely subject to more traffic than Leaside Park Drive or Overlea Boulevard (near MO_06N).

The ambient levels at the planned Overlea Boulevard (MO_04N) monitoring location were assumed to have levels represented by MO_05N data, as these locations are in close proximity to each other. This is a conservative assumption as traffic noise from Don Mills Road will likely be perceptible at the MO_04N location, but not at the MO_05N location.

In the case where construction noise impacted measured daytime sound levels at the Rolling Mills Road/Mill Street (MO_03S) location, daytime sound level data were assumed to be represented by measured data from the evening period, as evening levels tend to be similar to or slightly less than daytime levels in urban environments with high amounts of traffic. In the cases where attended overnight measurements were taken and evening data is unavailable, evening sound levels were conservatively assumed (for the purposes of future impact assessment as required) to be represented by the collected night-time data.

As stated in Section 2.3, data that could potentially be used to represent areas without measured data are highlighted in blue within the result tables (Table 2-1, Table 2-2, and Table 2-3). For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered such as for locations beyond those included in this Report. In addition, to support the application for Environmental Compliance Approvals and completion of Environmental Activity and Sector Registrations for this Project, Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks may require that background levels used for the adjustment of noise limits be verified by calculations in accordance with Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks noise prediction standards.

Measured ambient sound levels in certain areas were lower than others, typically in areas with more residential housing located away from larger arterial roadways and industrial or commercial facilities. This was most noticeable during the night-time period. Examples of residential areas with lower noise levels include Leaside Park Drive, Hopedale Avenue/Minton Place, Gowan Avenue, and Gertrude Place.

4.2 Vibration

The vibration velocities measured inside the theatres ranged from 0.0041 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) to 0.017 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as 95-percentile values; from 0.0048 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) to 0.0574 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as 98-percentile values; and from 0.0067 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) to 0.0644 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as one-second energy average maximum values. Considering the vibration velocity of 0.1 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as ground-borne vibration criteria for theatre spaces (FTA, 2018), the measured ambient vibration velocities are below the vibration criteria for these spaces. Although the vibration velocity was measured at an outdoor location near the Factory Theatre (MO_07V), the measured vibration values are within the range of the other measurement results. In general, ground-borne vibration velocity measured on the ground floor (street level) inside a building with a basement is considered to be similar to the outdoor vibration velocity measured on the ground surface adjacent to the building, considering the coupling loss between the ground and building foundation, and floor amplification of the ground floor above basement. If there is no basement, the indoor vibration velocity would be expected to be lower than the outdoor vibration velocity.

The vibration velocity measured at the walkway near Super Sonics Post Processing (recording studio, MO_03V) varied from 0.0175 millimetres/second (95th percentile root-mean-square) to 0.0826 millimetres/second (maximum 1-second energy average root-mean-square) depending on the assessment metrics. This maximum 1-second energy average exceeds the FTA vibration criteria for recording studios (0.045 millimetres/second root-mean-square for recording studios). However, since vibration velocity at this location was measured outdoors approximately six metres from the building façade, the vibration velocity inside the building might be lower than the measured velocity considering the coupling loss between the ground and building foundation.

The maximum vibration velocity measured in the St. Michael's Hospital MRI room (MO_04V) was 0.016 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) which is slightly higher than the recommended vibration velocity of MRI equipment (0.013 millimetres/second root-mean-square for most lithography and inspection equipment, adopted by the FTA guideline). The maximum vibration may have been captured during the period of preparation with human activities such as footfalls taking place before MRI machine operation. If the equipment-specific vibration criteria are available, they should be considered for the development of suitable vibration criteria as part of future assessments, otherwise the recommended vibration velocity of 0.013 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) should be maintained.

For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered for locations beyond those included in this Report.

5. Preliminary Potential Impacts, Mitigation Measures and Monitoring Activities

In accordance with Sections 4(3)(6) and 4(3)(7) of Ontario Regulation 341/20: Ontario Line Project, this section provides a preliminary overview of potential impacts, mitigation measures, and monitoring activities associated with the Project.

See Table 5-1 and Table 5-2 for a list of preliminary potential impacts, mitigation measures, and monitoring activities to be further assessed and evaluated as part of the Project Early Works Report and/or Environmental Impact Assessment Report, as per Sections 8 and 15 of Ontario Regulation 341/20: Ontario Line Project, respectively.

6. Future Studies

As Project planning and design advance and further details on planned transit facilities are available, noise and vibration impact studies shall be undertaken. A qualified noise and vibration engineering consultant will be required to complete these studies.

The measured ambient data in this Report can be used for baseline conditions in future noise and vibration studies applicable to the Ontario Line Project. Table 6-1 summarizes these uses and applicable criteria.

FTA Guideline – vibration levels (millimetres/second, root-mean-square).
Construction Assessments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> FTA Guideline - Day-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,16hr}$) and night-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,8hr}$). Day and night periods have been adjusted to match GO Transit and Toronto Transit Commission Protocol periods. FTA Guideline – vibration levels (millimetres/second, root-mean-square).

The residential receptors most exposed to predicted noise and vibration, from Project construction and operations, will require assessment with respect to the applicable guidelines presented in Table 6-1. When determining the worst case receptors and potential mitigation requirements, setback from the tracks and other Project infrastructure, receptor height (i.e., number of storeys), and other localized effects such as ground geometry will need to be considered. Properties with heritage recognition should be evaluated where vibration levels from the Project may be a concern. Heritage properties within the Ontario Line Study Area are outlined in the Ontario Line Cultural Heritage Report: Existing Conditions and Preliminary Impact Assessment (AECOM, 2020).

The need for potential mitigation will be determined as part of the future noise and vibration impact assessment studies once further details on the alignment and planned transit facilities become available. Selection/design of mitigation measures will be refined during detailed design. Transfer mobility measurements shall be undertaken in accordance with the FTA's Detailed Vibration Analysis procedure to account for localized ground conditions and establish spectral performance requirements for vibration isolation measures.

Noise and vibration monitoring during construction can help inform implementation of additional mitigation measures as required.

For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered for locations beyond those included in this Report. In addition, to support the application for Environmental Compliance Approvals and completion of Environmental Activity and Sector Registrations for this Project, Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks may require that background levels used for the adjustment of noise limits be verified by calculations in accordance with Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks noise prediction standards.

Before construction starts, a comprehensive communications plan may be developed to inform affected parties about the Project construction activities, schedule, noise and vibration management strategies, and communication and complaint resolution protocols.

7. Permits and Approvals

It is anticipated that Project facilities, such as maintenance and storage facility and traction power substations, will either be registered on the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks' Environmental Activity Sector Registry or will have applications submitted for Environmental Compliance Approvals, depending on the facility activity.

A range of municipal permits and approvals may be required for the Project, particularly as pertaining to municipally owned lands and infrastructure. Metrolinx will obtain all required permits and approvals. However, Metrolinx as a Crown Agency of the Province of Ontario is exempt from certain municipal processes and requirements. In these instances, Metrolinx will engage with the municipalities to incorporate municipal requirements as a best practice, where practical, and may obtain associated permits and approvals.

Metrolinx shall continue to communicate and engage with the City of Toronto during detailed design and construction planning to address municipal concerns.

Glossary

Term	Definition
Sound	Pressure wave travelling through a medium, such as air.
Noise	Unwanted sound.
Acoustics	The science of sound propagation and transmission.
Vibration	Oscillation of a parameter that defines the motion of a mechanical system.
Decibel, dB	A logarithmic ratio, not strictly a unit, used to describe sound levels. For sound pressure, the reference level is 20 micropascals (threshold of hearing).
Frequency	The rate at which an event is repeated. Measured in Hertz (Hz), where 1 Hz = 1 oscillation/sec. Normal human hearing extends over a range of frequencies from about 20 Hz to about 20 kHz.
Octave Band	A band of frequencies where the upper limiting frequency is twice the lower limiting frequency. Octave bands are identified by their centre-frequencies. The octave bands standardized for acoustic measurements include those centred at 31.5, 63, 125, 250, 500, 1000, 2000, 4000, & 8000 Hz.
A-Weighting Network, dBA	A frequency weighting network intended to represent the variation in the ear's ability to hear different frequencies. Overall sound levels calculated or measured using the A-weighting network are indicated by dBA rather than dB.
Sound Pressure Level (SPL, L_p)	A measurement of instantaneous sound pressure and equal to 10 times the logarithm (base 10) of the ratio of the instantaneous sound pressure of a sound divided by the reference sound pressure of 20 μ Pa (0 dB). Reported and measured in decibels (dB or dBA).
L_{eq} - "Equivalent sound level"	Value of a constant sound pressure level which would result in the same total sound energy as would the measured time-varying sound pressure level over equivalent time duration. The $L_{eq, 1hr}$, for example, describes the equivalent continuous sound level over a 1 hour period.
Percentile	A statistical indicator below which a certain percentage of measured data fall. For example, the 95 th percentile is the value below which 95% of the measured data may be found.
Root Mean Square Velocity (RMSV)	The square root of the mean-square value of an oscillating vibration velocity waveform, where the mean-square value is obtained by squaring the value of amplitudes at each instant in time and then averaging these values over the sample time.

Executive Summary

ES.1 Project Overview and Study Purpose

Metrolinx, an agency of the Province of Ontario, is proceeding with the planning and development of four priority transit projects under the Transit Plan for the Greater Toronto Area, one of which is the Ontario Line, extending from Exhibition/Ontario Place to the Ontario Science Centre in the City of Toronto. AECOM Canada Limited (AECOM) was retained by Metrolinx and Infrastructure Ontario to complete a Draft Environmental Conditions Report for the proposed Ontario Line Project (the Project).

The Project is a new approximately 16-kilometre subway line with connections to Line 1 (Yonge-University) subway service at Osgoode and Queen Stations, Line 2 (Bloor-Danforth) subway service at Pape Station, and Line 5 (Eglinton Crosstown) Light Rail Transit service at the future Science Centre Station. Fifteen stations are proposed, with additional connections to three GO Transit lines (Lakeshore East, Lakeshore West and Stouffville), and the Queen, King, Bathurst, Spadina, Harbourfront, and Gerrard/Carlton streetcar routes. The Project will reduce crowding on Line 1 and provide connections to new high-order rapid transit neighbourhoods. The Project will be constructed in a dedicated right-of-way with a combination of elevated (i.e., above existing rail corridor/roadway), tunnelled (i.e., underground), and at-grade (i.e., at grade with existing rail corridor/roadway) segments at various locations.

For the purpose of this Noise and Vibration Environmental Conditions Report, the Ontario Line Study Area has been divided into three segments:

- Ontario Line West (from Exhibition/Ontario Place to Osgoode Station);
- Ontario Line South (from Osgoode Station to Pape Station); and,
- Ontario Line North (from Pape Station to the Ontario Science Centre).

This Report supports the Draft Environmental Conditions Report prepared for the Project in accordance with Section 4 of the Ontario Regulation 341/20: Ontario Line Project (O. Reg. 341/20). The purpose of this Report is to:

- Document the existing noise and vibration levels within the Study Area and provide baseline conditions for potential use in subsequent Ontario Line Project noise and vibration impact assessments;
- Provide a preliminary description of the potential impacts that the Project might have on the environment that have been identified to date;

- Describe potential measures for mitigating negative impacts; and,
- Identify anticipated next steps for Project advancement, including recommendations for further investigations to be completed as part of a future Environmental Impact Assessment Report.

Refer to Section 1 of this Report for more information related to the Project purpose and detailed Study Area description.

ES.2 Methodology

Noise measurements were collected at 16 locations representative of noise sensitive receptors within the Ontario Line Study Area. These locations were selected based on proximity to at-grade and elevated sections of the representative alignment and potential facility locations as presented in the Ontario Line Initial Business Case, 2019.

Vibration measurements were collected at seven locations representative of vibration sensitive receptors within the Ontario Line Study Area. These locations – four theatres, a recording studio, and a hospital – were selected because they accommodate spaces and equipment that are potentially more sensitive to ground-borne noise and vibration than typical residential buildings.

ES.3 Existing Noise and Vibration Conditions

Noise measurements indicate that average existing daytime, evening, and night-time noise levels in the vicinity of the representative alignment range as follows:

- Daytime (7 AM to 7 PM) $L_{eq, 1hr}$: 48 dBA to 73 dBA;
- Evening (7 PM to 11 PM) $L_{eq, 1hr}$: 48 dBA to 71 dBA;
- Night-time (11 PM to 7 AM) $L_{eq, 1hr}$: 43 dBA to 70 dBA;
- Daytime (7 AM to 11 PM) $L_{eq, 16hr}$: 53 dBA to 67 dBA; and,
- Night-time (11 PM to 7 AM) $L_{eq, 8hr}$: 49 dBA to 62 dBA.

Typically noise levels were higher in locations with a close proximity to arterial roadways and during hours with higher expected traffic volumes, while noise levels were lower in areas further from arterial roads and during hours with lower traffic volumes.

Measured ambient sound levels in certain areas were lower than others, typically in areas with more residential housing located away from larger arterial roadways and industrial or commercial facilities. This was most noticeable during the night-time period. Examples of residential areas with lower noise levels include Leaside Park Drive, Hopedale Avenue/Minton Place, Gowan Avenue, and Gertrude Place.

Vibration measurements indicate the maximum root-mean-square vibration velocity at vibration sensitive spaces in the vicinity of the representative alignment range as follows:

- Theatres: 0.0067 millimetres/second to 0.0644 millimetres/second;
- Recording Studio: 0.0826 millimetres/second (outdoor); and,
- Hospital: 0.016 millimetres/second (Magnetic Resonance Imaging Room).

The ambient vibration velocities measured inside the four theatres (Canadian Stage Theatre, Alumnae Theatre Company, Elgin Winter Garden Theatre, and Four Seasons Centre for Performing Arts) are below the US Department of Transportation Federal Transit Administration (FTA) vibration criteria for these spaces.

The measured maximum vibration velocity was higher than the FTA vibration velocity criteria for Super Sonics Post Processing (recording studio). However, since vibration velocity at this location was measured outdoors approximately six metres from the building façade, the vibration velocity inside the building might be lower than the measured velocity when considering the coupling loss between the ground and building foundation.

The maximum vibration velocity measured in the St. Michael's Hospital MRI room is slightly higher than the recommended FTA vibration velocity of MRI equipment. The maximum vibration may have been captured during the period of preparation with human activities such as footfalls taking place before MRI machine operation.

ES.4 Preliminary Potential Impacts and Mitigation Measures

Potential operational mitigation includes reducing the noise at the source, optimal maintenance and inspections of railway tracks and subway trains, and noise and vibration transmission attenuation (e.g., noise walls, resiliently supported rail ties, high resilient fasteners, ballast mats, or floating slabs).

Potential construction noise and vibration mitigation measures include restricting work hours to day-time when possible, keeping equipment in good working order and with effective muffling devices, and utilizing equipment with low noise and vibration emissions when possible. Noise and vibration monitoring can help inform further mitigation requirements during construction. Further mitigation measures could include but are not limited to temporary noise barriers, additional silencers and mufflers, equipment enclosures and off-site construction of Project parts.

ES.5 Future Studies

As Project planning and design advance and further details on the alignment and planned transit facilities are available, noise and vibration impact assessment studies shall be undertaken to determine potential mitigation. The measured ambient data in this Report can be used for baseline conditions in future noise and vibration studies applicable to the Ontario Line Project. Further details regarding potential use of data in future assessments and applicable guidelines are provided in Section 6.

ES.6 Permits and Approvals

It is anticipated that Project facilities (such as maintenance and storage facilities and traction power substations) will either be registered on the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks' Environmental Activity Sector Registry, or will have applications submitted for Environmental Compliance Approvals, depending on the facility activity.

1. Introduction

1.1 Project Overview

Metrolinx, an agency of the Province of Ontario, is proceeding with the planning and development of four priority transit projects under the Transit Plan for the Greater Toronto Area, one of which is the Ontario Line, extending from Exhibition/Ontario Place to the Ontario Science Centre in the City of Toronto. AECOM Canada Limited (AECOM) was retained by Metrolinx and Infrastructure Ontario to complete this Environmental Conditions Report for the Ontario Line Project (the Project). This Noise and Vibration Environmental Conditions Report (this Report) is one of several environmental conditions reports prepared for the Project. The purpose of this Report is described in Section 1.2.

The Project is a new approximately 16-kilometre subway line with connections to Line 1 (Yonge-University) subway service at Osgoode and Queen Stations, Line 2 (Bloor-Danforth) subway service at Pape Station, and Line 5 (Eglinton Crosstown) Light Rail Transit service at the future Science Centre Station. Fifteen stations are proposed, with additional connections to three GO Transit lines (Lakeshore East, Lakeshore West and Stouffville), and the Queen, King, Bathurst, Spadina, Harbourfront and Gerrard/Carlton streetcar routes. The Project will reduce crowding on Line 1 and provide connections to new high-order rapid transit neighbourhoods. The Project will be constructed in a dedicated right-of-way with a combination of elevated (i.e., above existing rail corridor/roadway), tunnelled (i.e., underground), and at-grade (i.e., at grade with existing rail corridor/roadway) segments at various locations.

For the purpose of this Report, the Ontario Line Study Area has been divided into three segments:

- Ontario Line West (from Osgoode Station to Ontario Place);
- Ontario Line South (from Osgoode Station to Pape Station); and,
- Ontario Line North (from Pape Station to the Ontario Science Centre).

1.2 Purpose of this Report

- Provide a preliminary description of the potential impacts that the Project might have on the environment that have been identified to date;
- Describe potential measures for mitigating negative impacts; and,
- Identify anticipated next steps for Project advancement, including recommendations for further investigations to be completed as part of a future Environmental Impact Assessment Report.

A glossary of technical terms used in this report is provided in Appendix A.

1.3 Study Area

The Ontario Line Study Area was established based on the preliminary proposed route reflected in the Ontario Line Initial Business Case (Metrolinx 2019), where a buffer was applied to the preliminary proposed route delineating a sufficiently sized area to comprehensively characterize existing environmental conditions.

For readability and for the purposes of this Report, the Ontario Line Study Area has been divided into three segments, which are described in the following sections.

1.3.2 Ontario Line South

1.3.3 Ontario Line North

The Ontario Line North Study Area approximate boundaries are the Canadian Pacific rail tracks in the west, Don Mills Road in the east, Pape Station in the south, and Barber Greene Road / Green Belt Drive (north of Eglinton Avenue East) in the north. The Ontario Line North Study Area is shown in Figure 1-3.

2. Baseline Noise Conditions

2.1 Metrics

Noise impacts on noise sensitive locations are typically assessed using a 1-hour, 8-hour, or 16-hour “equivalent sound level” metric, denoted as $L_{eq,T}$. This metric describes the constant sound level that would produce the same acoustic energy as the transient (time-varying) sound level, over the exposure time period “T”. The relationships between transient sound level, equivalent sound level, and exposure time are conceptually illustrated in Figure 2-1.

AECOM collected noise measurements at 16 locations representative of the noise sensitive receptors (residential dwellings) within the study area. Receptor locations were selected based on proximity to the above ground sections of the representative alignment and potential facility locations as presented in the Ontario Line Initial Business Case, 2019. Noise measurement locations are presented in Appendix B.

Data could not be recovered from the noise monitor set up on Windom Road (planned monitor MO_01N). In addition, access restrictions prevented ambient monitoring at the 17th planned location MO_04N. Methods used to estimate noise levels for these locations are described in Section 4.

The measurements were collected using 3M Quest SoundPro sound level meters fitted with microphone windscreens and set up to log noise levels in 15-minute intervals ($L_{eq,15min}$). The sound level meters were installed at a height of approximately three metres above the ground and were field calibrated prior to, and upon completion of the noise measurements.

At 13 locations, the sound level meters recorded data continuously for approximately five days, or longer during the period of November 5th to December 2nd, 2019. At two locations (MO_01W and MO5_05S), attended noise monitoring was conducted overnight for one night due to access and security restrictions.

After completion of the measurements, the noise measurement data were processed to remove samples collected during high winds (wind speeds greater than 20 kilometres/hour¹), precipitation, or periods with data not representative of the typical acoustic environment (e.g., continuous construction). The processed data were then used to estimate $L_{eq,1hr}$, $L_{eq,8hr}$, and $L_{eq,16hr}$ metrics.

Detailed information regarding the sound level meter instrumentation is provided in Appendix C.

2.3 Results

Table 2-1, Table 2-2 and Table 2-3 summarize the results of the noise measurements. The full noise measurement dataset, and prevailing weather conditions during the measurement periods are provided in Appendix D.

Note that evening period (7:00 PM to 11:00 PM) data were not measured at locations MO_01W and MO_05S due to access restraints. The daytime period measurements for the Rolling Mills Road/Mill Street location (MO_03S) were excluded as well due to significant daytime construction near the monitor. Methods used to estimate noise levels during these time periods are outlined in Section 4.

1. This is the wind speed where most available microphone wind screens are considered inadequate for reducing wind noise impacts on measurements. (Bies and Hansen, 2009). In addition, this is the upper wind speed for assessment of background noise, above which winds can generate high ambient noise in areas that are well treed with considerable foliage (CTA, 2011).

Data that could be used to represent areas without measured data are highlighted in blue within the result tables. These representative data have been selected from locations and time periods where ambient noise levels are expected to be similar to or lower than the noise levels at the locations without measured data. The representative data has been selected based on alternative locations or time periods where ambient noise levels are expected to be similar or lower.

For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered for locations beyond those included in this report. In addition, to support the application for Environmental Compliance Approvals and completion of Environmental Activity and Sector Registrations for this Project, Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks may require that background levels used for the adjustment of noise limits be verified by calculations in accordance with Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks noise prediction standards.

3. Baseline Vibration Conditions

3.1 Metrics

Vibrations travel through solid media as waves in a similar way to how sound travels through fluid media. Ground-borne vibration is the oscillatory motion of the ground about some equilibrium position that can be described in terms of displacement, velocity, or acceleration. For a vibrating floor, the vibration displacement represents the distance the floor moves away from its static position. Velocity is the instantaneous motion of the floor in a certain time period and acceleration is the rate of change of the velocity. The response of humans, buildings, and equipment to vibration is most accurately described using velocity or acceleration; hence, these are most commonly used in evaluating vibration. For the response of humans or vibration sensitive equipment, an averaged amplitude of vibration is more appropriate since the human body and equipment require a certain period to respond to vibration. The root-mean-square amplitude is typically used to assess the vibration response of humans and equipment (CDT, 2013). The root-mean-square value is the square root of the average of the squared amplitudes of the signal that can be described as the smoothed vibration amplitude for an average time period. The averaging time period of root-mean-square is typically one second for transit projects (FTA, 2018).

3.2 Methods

AECOM collected unattended vibration measurements at seven sites including five theatres, one recording studio and one hospital in the study area, during the months of January and February of 2020. These locations were selected because they accommodate spaces and equipment that are potentially more sensitive to ground-borne noise and vibration than typical residential buildings. The measurement sites were located in the Ontario Line West and Ontario Line South segments. No vibration-sensitive receptors with special requirements beyond residential sensitivity were identified in the Ontario Line North segment. At each measurement site, one to three locations were selected for the installation of vibration measurement sensors (accelerometers). Within the measurement sites, sensors were placed as close as possible to the representative alignment. The vibration measurement sites are shown in Appendix B. The measurement locations at each site are outlined in Table 3-1 and Table 3-2, and photos and floor plans are attached in Appendix F.

At each measurement location, continuous vibration was measured using one or two accelerometers (nominal sensitivity of 10 V/g)² depending on the site condition, and the measured data were recorded with a RION DA-21 digital data recorder (24 bit) with the sampling frequency of 2,560 hertz. The detailed description of accelerometers is provided in Appendix C. Accelerometers were calibrated before the measurements were taken.

The vibration data were processed with analysis software (MATLAB version 2019b) to obtain root-mean-square velocity in the time-domain and energy averaged maximum root-mean-square velocity in 1/3-octave frequency bands. The lowest and highest frequency bands used in the analysis were 1 hertz and 500 hertz, respectively. At each location, approximately one to four hours of data were acquired in one-hour data blocks. For each one-hour data block, the one-second root-mean-square velocity with 50% overlap was calculated in the time-domain; and the 95 percentile and 98 percentile values were evaluated. In addition to the time-domain analysis, the energy averaged root-mean-square (one-second period with 50% overlap) velocity was calculated for each one-hour data block; and then the maximum velocity at each 1/3 octave-band frequency captured.

3.3 Results

The vibration measurement results are summarized in Table 3-3 and Table 3-4, and the entire measured and processed one-hour data block results are attached in Appendix E. The one-second energy averaged maximum RMS value is typically employed for transit vibration impact assessment to vibration sensitive equipment and human response. The 95-percentile value can be considered as the typical ambient vibration condition excluding local activities near the sensor such as impulses due to footfalls. For the spaces experiencing frequent intermittent or impulsive vibrations, the 98-percentile value is expected to be more representative than the 95-percentile value. Other estimation methods or additional measurements for future assessments may be employed to define ambient conditions.

4. Discussion

4.1 Noise

The results of the noise measurements indicate that average existing noise levels in the vicinity of the representative alignment are as follows:

- Daytime $L_{eq,1hr}$: 48 dBA to 73 dBA;
- Evening $L_{eq,1hr}$: 48 dBA to 71 dBA;
- Night-time $L_{eq,1hr}$: 43 dBA to 70 dBA;
- Daytime $L_{eq,16hr}$: 53 dBA to 67 dBA; and,
- Night-time $L_{eq,8hr}$: 49 dBA to 62 dBA.

Typically noise levels were higher in locations with a close proximity to arterial roadways and during hours with higher expected traffic volumes, while noise levels were lower in areas further from arterial roads and during hours with lower traffic volumes.

Where one hour ($L_{eq,1hr}$) periods are typically used in stationary source assessments, and 16/8 hour day/night split periods ($L_{eq,16hr}$ and $L_{eq,8hr}$, respectively) are used for rail and construction assessments:

These average noise levels are consistent with levels that may be expected within a mix of Class 1 and Class 2 (urban/suburban) areas, where road traffic and industry are the dominant noise sources. A Class 1 area is defined in the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks NPC-300 Guideline as an area with an acoustical environment of a major population centre where the background is dominated by road traffic and the activities of people, referred to as “urban hum”. A Class 2 area is an area with a Class 1 environment during day-time hours, with lower night time and/or evening background noise levels defined by the natural environment and infrequent human activity.

The ambient noise at the Windom Road (MO_01N) location was assumed to be represented by measured data from the MO_06N location as it is similarly adjacent to a busy roadway and commercial/institutional activities, has access roads with expected similar traffic, and has a similar amount of noise shielding from road, mechanical equipment, or human activity noise. This is likely a conservative assumption as Eglinton Boulevard and Don Mills Road (near MO_01N) are likely subject to more traffic than Leaside Park Drive or Overlea Boulevard (near MO_06N).

The ambient levels at the planned Overlea Boulevard (MO_04N) monitoring location were assumed to have levels represented by MO_05N data, as these locations are in close proximity to each other. This is a conservative assumption as traffic noise from Don Mills Road will likely be perceptible at the MO_04N location, but not at the MO_05N location.

In the case where construction noise impacted measured daytime sound levels at the Rolling Mills Road/Mill Street (MO_03S) location, daytime sound level data were assumed to be represented by measured data from the evening period, as evening levels tend to be similar to or slightly less than daytime levels in urban environments with high amounts of traffic. In the cases where attended overnight measurements were taken and evening data is unavailable, evening sound levels were conservatively assumed (for the purposes of future impact assessment as required) to be represented by the collected night-time data.

As stated in Section 2.3, data that could potentially be used to represent areas without measured data are highlighted in blue within the result tables (Table 2-1, Table 2-2, and Table 2-3). For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered such as for locations beyond those included in this report. In addition, to support the application for Environmental Compliance Approvals and completion of Environmental Activity and Sector Registrations for this Project, Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks may require that background levels used for the adjustment of noise limits be verified by calculations in accordance with Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks noise prediction standards.

Measured ambient sound levels in certain areas were lower than others, typically in areas with more residential housing located away from larger arterial roadways and industrial or commercial facilities. This was most noticeable during the night-time period. Examples of residential areas with lower noise levels include Leaside Park Drive, Hopedale Avenue/Minton Place, Gowan Avenue, and Gertrude Place.

4.2 Vibration

The vibration velocities measured inside the theatres ranged from 0.0041 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) to 0.017 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as 95-percentile values; from 0.0048 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) to 0.0574 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as 98-percentile values; and from 0.0067 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) to 0.0644 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as one-second energy average maximum values. Considering the vibration velocity of 0.1 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) as ground-borne vibration criteria for theatre spaces (FTA, 2018), the measured ambient vibration velocities are below the vibration criteria for these spaces. Although the vibration velocity was measured at an outdoor location near the Factory Theatre (MO_07V), the measured vibration values are within the range of the other measurement results. In general, ground-borne vibration velocity measured on the ground floor (street level) inside a building with a basement is considered to be similar to the outdoor vibration velocity measured on the ground surface adjacent to the building, considering the coupling loss between the ground and building foundation, and floor amplification of the ground floor above basement. If there is no basement, the indoor vibration velocity would be expected to be lower than the outdoor vibration velocity.

The vibration velocity measured at the walkway near Super Sonics Post Processing (recording studio, MO_03V) varied from 0.0175 millimetres/second (95th percentile root-mean-square) to 0.0826 millimetres/second (maximum 1-second energy average root-mean-square) depending on the assessment metrics. This maximum 1-second energy average exceeds the FTA vibration criteria for recording studios (0.045 millimetres/second root-mean-square for recording studios). However, since vibration velocity at this location was measured outdoors approximately six metres from the building façade, the vibration velocity inside the building might be lower than the measured velocity considering the coupling loss between the ground and building foundation.

The maximum vibration velocity measured in the St. Michael's Hospital MRI room (MO_04V) was 0.016 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) which is slightly higher than the recommended vibration velocity of MRI equipment (0.013 millimetres/second root-mean-square for most lithography and inspection equipment, adopted by the FTA guideline). The maximum vibration may have been captured during the period of preparation with human activities such as footfalls taking place before MRI machine operation. If the equipment-specific vibration criteria are available, they should be considered for the development of suitable vibration criteria as part of future assessments, otherwise the recommended vibration velocity of 0.013 millimetres/second (root-mean-square) should be maintained.

5. Preliminary Potential Impacts and Mitigation Measures

6. Future Studies

As Project planning and design advance and further details on planned transit facilities are available, noise and vibration impact studies shall be undertaken. A qualified noise and vibration engineering consultant will be required to complete these studies.

The measured ambient data in this report can be used for baseline conditions in future noise and vibration studies applicable to the Ontario Line Project. Table 6-1 summarizes these uses and applicable criteria.

Table 6-1: Potential Uses for Baseline Noise and Vibration Results

Assessment Type(s)	Applicable Guidelines and Metrics Required
Stationary Sources (including layover/maintenance and storage facilities)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks NPC-300 Guideline – One-hour equivalent sound level ($L_{eq,1hr}$) for day, evening, and night-time periods. Typically, the minimum values from Tables 1, 2 and 3 will be used.
Rail Operation Assessments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> MOEE/GO Draft Protocol – Day-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,16hr}$) and night-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,8hr}$). MOEE/Toronto Transit Commission Protocol – Day-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,16hr}$) and night-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,8hr}$). FTA Guideline – vibration levels (millimetres/second, root-mean-square).
Construction Assessments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> FTA Guideline - Day-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,16hr}$) and night-time equivalent sound levels ($L_{eq,8hr}$). Day and night periods have been adjusted to match GO Transit and Toronto Transit Commission Protocol periods. FTA Guideline – vibration levels (millimetres/second, root-mean-square).

The need for potential mitigation will be determined as part of the future noise and vibration impact assessment studies once further details on the alignment and planned transit facilities become available. Selection/design of mitigation measures will be refined during detailed design. Transfer mobility measurements shall be undertaken in accordance with the FTA's Detailed Vibration Analysis procedure to account for localized ground conditions and establish spectral performance requirements for vibration isolation measures.

Noise and vibration monitoring during construction can help inform implementation of additional mitigation measures as required.

For future impact assessment work, additional estimates or measurements may be considered for locations beyond those included in this report. In addition, to support the application for Environmental Compliance Approvals and completion of Environmental Activity and Sector Registrations for this Project, Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks may require that background levels used for the adjustment of noise limits be verified by calculations in accordance with Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks noise prediction standards.

Before construction starts, a comprehensive communications plan may be developed to inform affected parties about the Project construction activities, schedule, noise and vibration management strategies, and communication and complaint resolution protocols.

7. Permits and Approvals

It is anticipated that Project facilities (such as maintenance and storage facilities and traction power substations) will either be registered on the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks' Environmental Activity Sector Registry, or will have applications submitted for Environmental Compliance Approvals, depending on the facility activity.

A range of municipal permits and approvals may be required for the Project, particularly as pertaining to municipally owned lands and infrastructure. Metrolinx will obtain all required permits and approvals. However, Metrolinx as a Crown Agency of the Province of Ontario is exempt from certain municipal processes and requirements. In these instances, Metrolinx will engage with the municipalities to incorporate municipal requirements as a best practice, where practical, and may obtain associated permits and approvals.

Metrolinx shall continue to communicate and engage with the City of Toronto during detailed design and construction planning to address municipal concerns.

Glossary

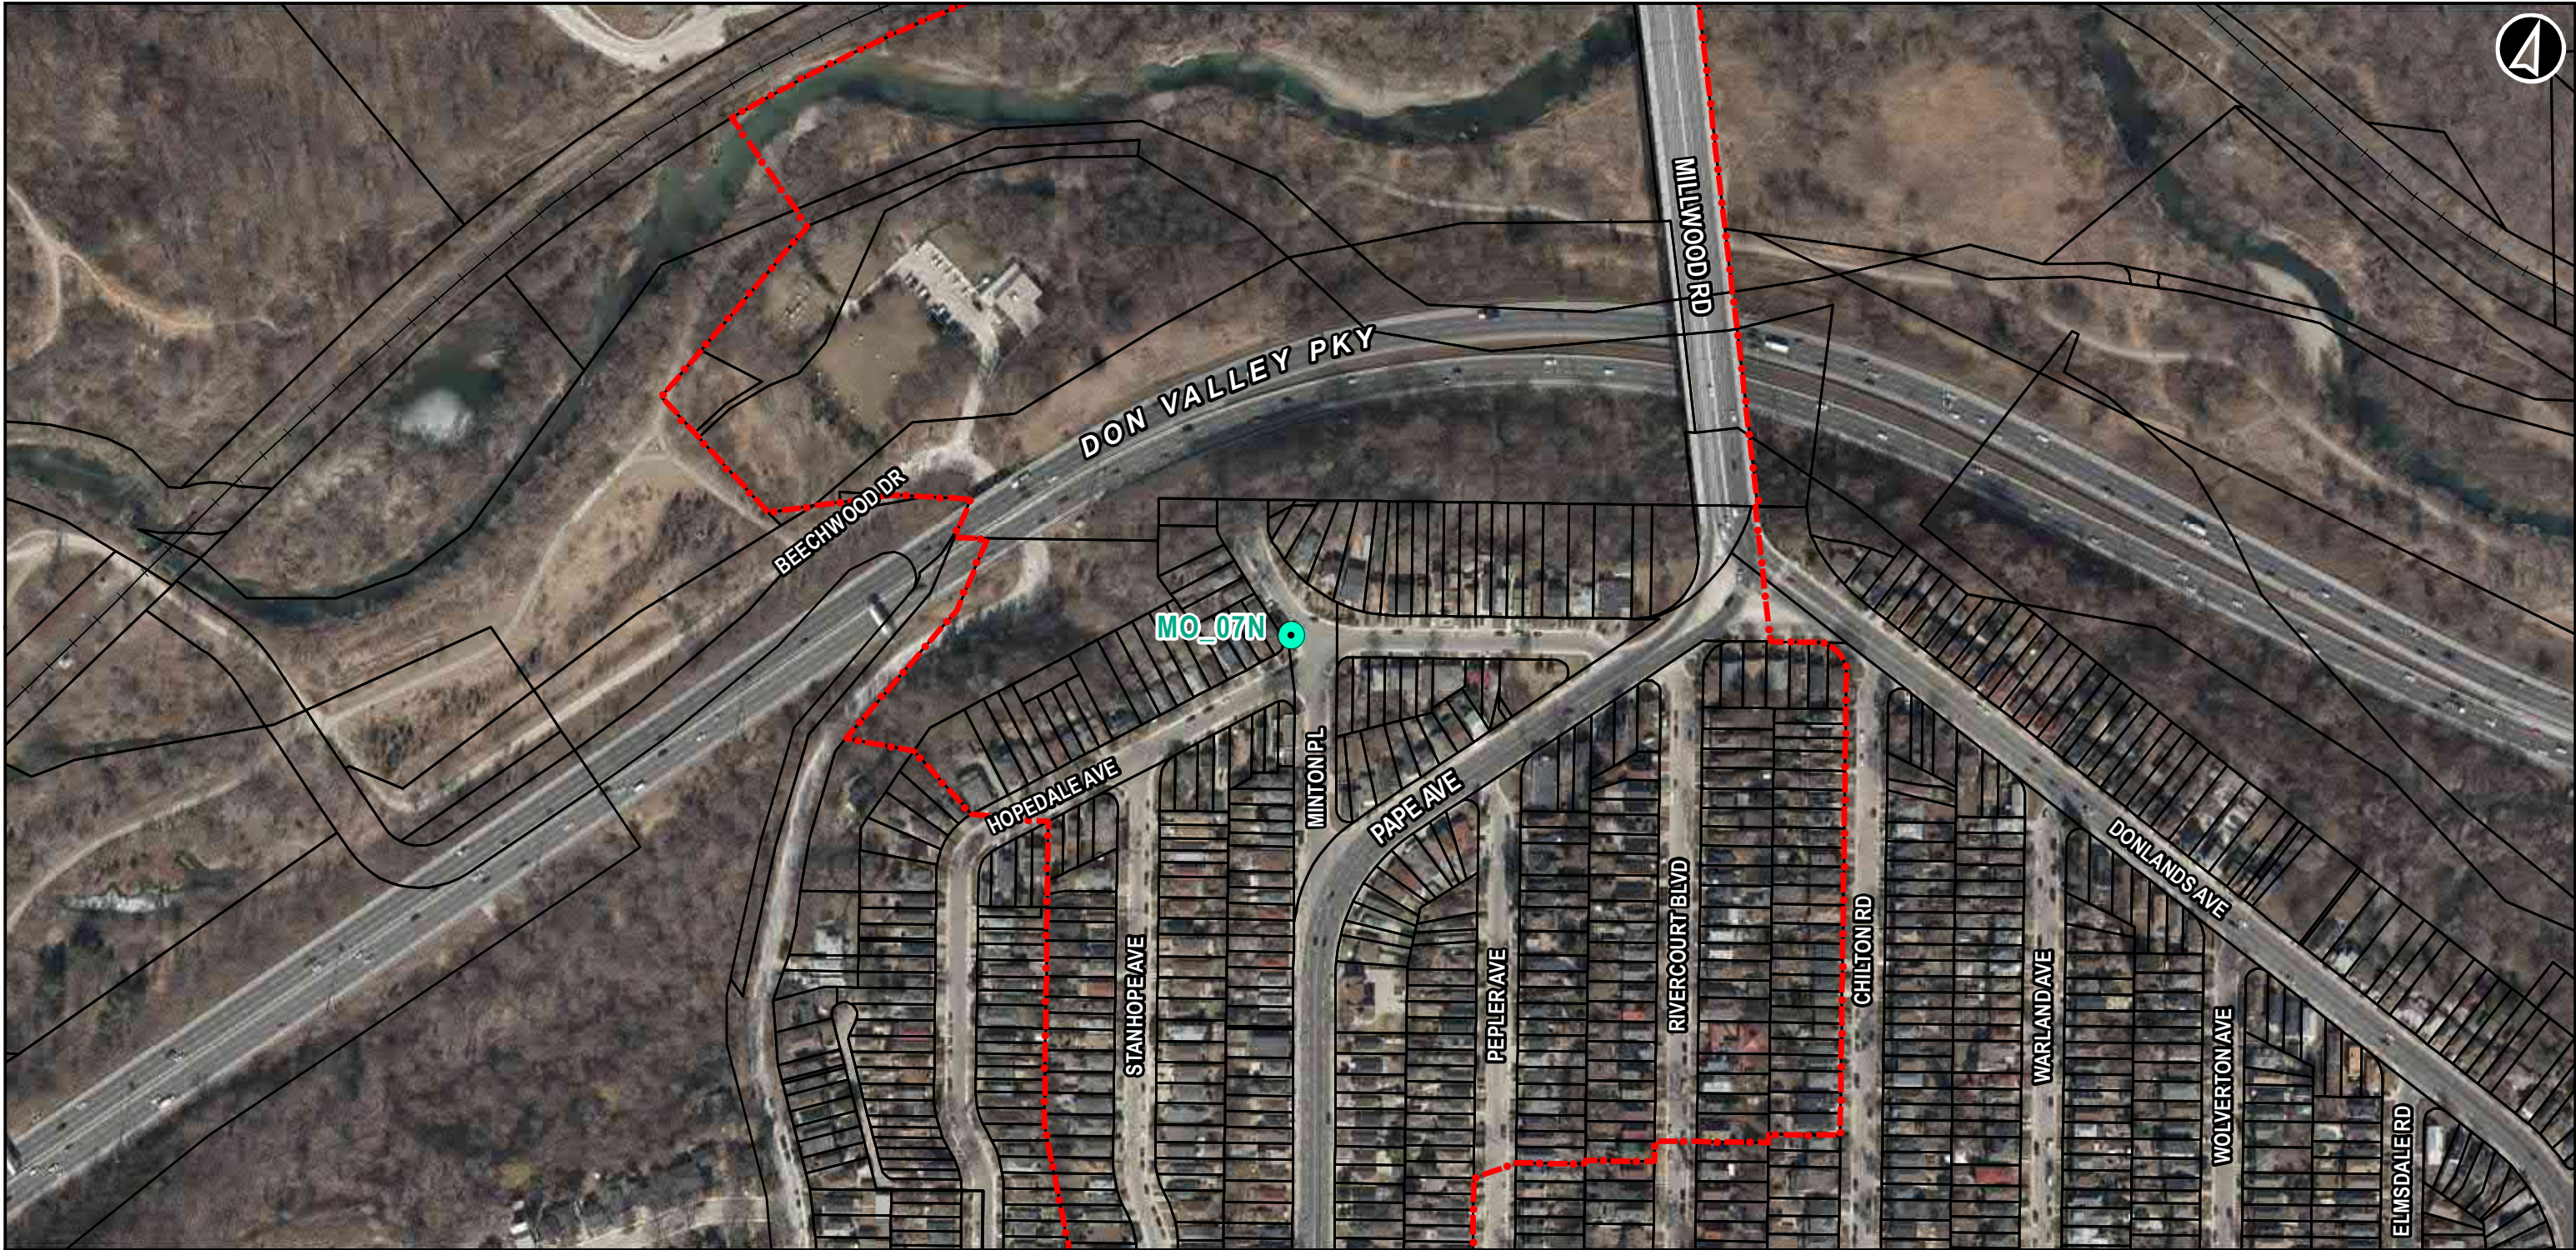

Term	Definition
Sound	Pressure wave travelling through a medium, such as air.
Noise	Unwanted sound.
Acoustics	The science of sound propagation and transmission.
Vibration	Oscillation of a parameter that defines the motion of a mechanical system.
Decibel, dB	A logarithmic ratio, not strictly a unit, used to describe sound levels. For sound pressure, the reference level is 20 micropascals (threshold of hearing).
Frequency	The rate at which an event is repeated. Measured in Hertz (Hz), where 1 Hz = 1 oscillation/sec. Normal human hearing extends over a range of frequencies from about 20 Hz to about 20 kHz.
Octave Band	A band of frequencies where the upper limiting frequency is twice the lower limiting frequency. Octave bands are identified by their centre-frequencies. The octave bands standardized for acoustic measurements include those centred at 31.5, 63, 125, 250, 500, 1000, 2000, 4000, & 8000 Hz.
A-Weighting Network, dBA	A frequency weighting network intended to represent the variation in the ear's ability to hear different frequencies. Overall sound levels calculated or measured using the A-weighting network are indicated by dBA rather than dB.
Sound Pressure Level (SPL, L_p)	A measurement of instantaneous sound pressure and equal to 10 times the logarithm (base 10) of the ratio of the instantaneous sound pressure of a sound divided by the reference sound pressure of 20 μ Pa (0 dB). Reported and measured in decibels (dB or dBA).
L_{eq} - "Equivalent sound level"	Value of a constant sound pressure level which would result in the same total sound energy as would the measured time-varying sound pressure level over equivalent time duration. The $L_{eq, 1hr}$, for example, describes the equivalent continuous sound level over a 1 hour period.
Percentile	A statistical indicator below which a certain percentage of measured data fall. For example, the 95 th percentile is the value below which 95% of the measured data may be found.
Root Mean Square Velocity (RMSV)	The square root of the mean-square value of an oscillating vibration velocity waveform, where the mean-square value is obtained by squaring the value of amplitudes at each instant in time and then averaging these values over the sample time.
