STRATEGY ITEMS

3. Land Acknowledgement and Safety Moment

Staff joined the meeting at 10:32 a.m.

On behalf of the Board, the Chair acknowledged that the Board was meeting on lands traditionally occupied by Indigenous Peoples, including the Anishnabeg, the Haudenosaunee and the Wendat peoples, and affirmed Metrolinx's commitment to conducting business and building meaningful relationships with Indigenous communities upon the foundation of trust, respect and collaboration.

The Chair reviewed safety and security measures and the group held a safety moment.

4. Metrolinx 2025 Transformation Plan

Phil Verster, President and Chief Executive Officer, together with the Senior Management Team provided an overview of the Metrolinx 2025 Transformation Plan (the "Plan"). The Plan includes actions and objectives for each of Metrolinx's divisions, including six key divisions, to ensure readiness for 2025 by building internal capabilities and enhancing the organization's sustainability. Staff confirmed that the Plan has been developed internally, without input from external consultants, and therefore reflects management's vision of what we want to look like in 2025. A two-day strategy session has been planned by the management team to further determine and establish related cultural components and build on existing principles of numeracy (to guide the business), equity, and customer focus. A small internal team has been formed under the Chief Financial Officer to guide related activities.

Ian Smith, Chief Operating Officer, provided an overview of the GO & Up Transformation Plan including activities to ensure readiness for GO Expansion (OnCorr), and Customer Satisfaction and on-time performance targets. [Redacted: Advice to Government.]

Steve Levene, Chief Operating Officer - Rapid Transit, highlighted the breadth of the Rapid Transit transformation plan including asset (and asset performance) management, related commercial management functions, and development of a maintenance academy that makes knowledge a core competency. [Redacted: Advice to Government.]

David Jang, Chief Communications Officer, described objectives and activities planned to transform Metrolinx's Communications & Engagement team. On the communications side a key objective is to pivot Metrolinx to a more proactive organization with narratives shaped around the purpose of Metrolinx's projects. [Redacted: Advice to Government.]

Matt Clark, Chief Capital Officer, summarized the purpose and objectives of the Capital Projects Transformation plan which aims to transform Metrolinx to a more active, hands on and knowledgeable owner that works collaboratively with its contractors and suppliers in planning and delivering the work. [Redacted: Advice to Government.]

5. Risk Maturity Assessment and Roadmap Preview

Jennifer Gray, Chief Financial Officer, and Chris Lansley, Chief Risk Officer, presented the results of the Enterprise Risk Management Maturity Assessment. Staff highlighted Metrolinx's success in building an enterprise risk management framework with associated key performance indicators for the organization. Most recently risk-based discussions within the organization have started to evolve and become more organic, active and solutions oriented. Based on the maturity assessment, the management team will meet to align on target maturity and related actions, objectives and priorities.

[Redacted: Advice to Government.]
