

The switch to running GO trains on the Davenport Diamond elevated guideway as of Monday, March 27 has been postponed.

Over the past week, during planning and commissioning to begin running revenue service trains on the Davenport Diamond Guideway, Metrolinx identified the need for additional tests, training, and procedures prior to running revenue service trains on the guideway.

Given this is a permanent switch from existing tracks to the new guideway, we want to be certain the system has gone through further testing and commissioning so there are no customer impacts.

Construction on the project and revenue service on the Barrie Line will continue while this planning work takes place, including the planned major track closure for the 25th and the 26th. During this time, buses will replace Barrie Line GO Trains to allow for maintenance happening between Bradford and Downsview Park GO. More information can be found here: <https://www.metrolinx.com/en/news/buses-to-replace-barrie-line-go-trains-this-weekend>

Metrolinx will provide customers and the local community an update before the trains make the switch to the new guideway.

We encourage you to follow us for regular updates on Twitter @GOExpansion

You can find out more about the Davenport Diamond project at www.metrolinx.com/davenport

Write to us at: torontowest@metrolinx.com

Tel: 416-202-6911

Sign up for the Toronto West Community Newsletter

www.metrolinx.com/subscribe