

UPDATED: Overnight water shutdown at University Avenue and Queen Street West

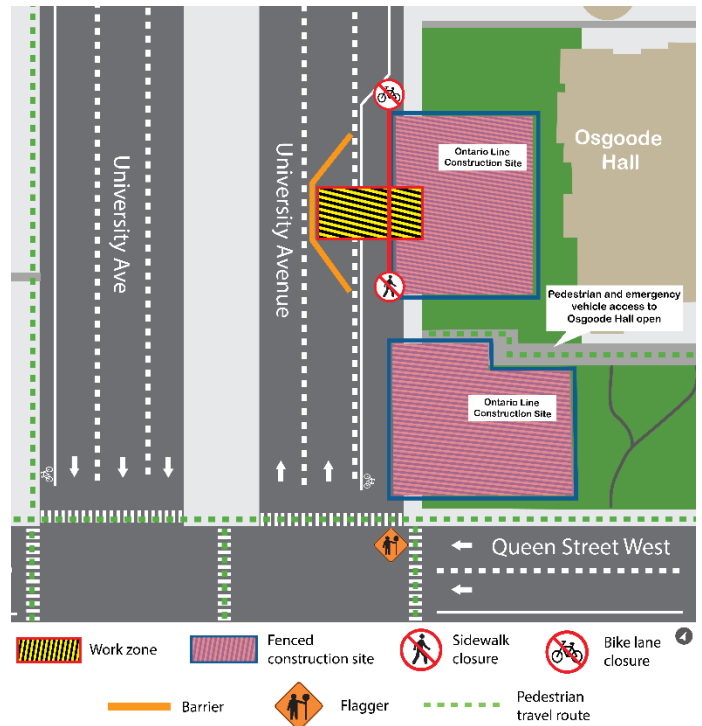

Expected start date: As early as December 17, 2024

Duration: Three to four nights

Hours of work: Overnight, from 9:00 p.m. to 5:30 a.m.

What is happening?

- As a component of ongoing work for Ontario Line construction at Osgoode Station, crews will temporarily shut water overnight and in the early morning in order to relocate a fire hydrant inside the Ontario Line work zone, onto the sidewalk between the sites.
- During this work, water will be temporarily shut off, impacting the TTC.
- Water service will resume upon completion of the work.

What to expect

- The work is expected to take place overnight between 9:00 p.m. and 5:30 a.m., starting as early as the evening of December 17, 2024. Work zones are indicated on the map above.
- Work is expected to be completed within three to four nights, and TTC water service resumed by 7:00 a.m. each day.
- There will be no water shut offs expected for any additional properties in the area.
- The pedestrian, vehicle, and emergency vehicle access to Osgoode Hall will remain open.
- The east sidewalk along University Avenue and the cyclist lane will be closed during active work north of Osgoode Hall and will be re-opened outside of working hours.
- Pedestrians and cyclists traveling northbound are required to take a detour on the west side of University Avenue.
- A flag-person will be in place at the northeast corner of University Avenue and Queen Street West to assist with directing pedestrians and cyclists.
- The northbound curb lane on University Avenue will be closed during this work. One lane northbound will remain open while work is ongoing.
